Hurricane Katrina

“Geography has made us neighbors. History has made us friends. Economics has made us partners, and necessity has made us allies.” Those are the words of President Kennedy, speaking to the Canadian Parliament in 1961. Today, Kennedy’s words still ring true. In response to Hurricane Katrina, which has pummeled the coast of Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi, the American Red Cross has launched its largest ever mobilization of resources for a single disaster. “We have offered our colleagues in the United States our full support for this disaster,” said Don Shropshire, National Director, Disaster Services, Canadian Red Cross.

I.E.Canada invites you to give generously offering disaster relief as an association to the Red Cross. Now, when many American friends are severely affected by Hurricane Katrina you can help.
